Henry PRENDERGAST.

Superintendant H. W. W.

On Monday last, the Legislative Assembly ordered a Committee to wait upon His Majesty, and inform him of their readiness to be prorogued on Monday next. The Assembly convened April 18th and have continued their sittings steadily up to the present, and by Monday will have reached 55 working days. The session will be shorter than those of former years. The second reading of the Appropriation Bill was finished on Monday, and there are still ten to fifteen Bills upon the table, awaiting action, but they can easily be disposed of before Monday.

On Tuesday of last week, the Bill granting Aid to Ocean Steumships (known as the Subsidy Bill), passed its final reading. This Bill, which has been the most warmly debated one of the session, has called out a very general expression of opinion, both in and out of the Assembly. It authorizes the King, in Privy Council, to grant, in his discretion, the sum of $50,000, under conditions regarding prices of passage and freight, and other minor regulations, to any Steamship Company which will engage to put a second steamer on the route between this port and San Francisco, for

Under the present circumstances, and with a due regard to the future, it was wise for the Assembly to confer this discretionary power, and thus open the way for secoring any advantages in rapid communication with the Const, which may arise during the time which will elapse before the next session. The responsibility of securing a valuable service, for the money voted, will rest with the Government.

One of the most important Bills of the session is that introduced by the Chairman of the Committee on Education, Mr. Hitchcock. It provides for the re-organizing of the Local School Boards so that one member of the Board shall be elective and for the appointment and removal of the teachers in the common schools by the' Local Board, subject to appeal to the Board of Education.

The management of the common schools has been a fruitful source of differences of opinion among those competent to judge in educational matters, and while all profess to be siming at the same result-the greater efficiency and usefulness of the schools-the screet and most expedient method of attaining this, is not so apparent. If the Local Boards are interested, earnest and efficient, and have the good of the schools at heart, the schools will prosper. No central power, vested in the Board of Education, can infuse life and activity into the schools of the outer districts, if the Local Board, the parents and the people are indifferent to the education of the children, and neglectful of the welfare of the schools. No amount of legislation can compensate, or any industry of the general officers of the Board supply, the momentum which ought to come from the parents.

The system of common schools on these Islands has never been as vigorous and as effective as in other countries; simply be, cause the Hawaiians have always depended upon their Government, or their religious teachers to keep up enthusiastic movement in the cause of general education.

The institution of higher grades of select schools, which have spruog up all over the country, during the last four years, has had a tendency to incite both parents and children, to desire and esteem a good education, and must have a reflex action for good on the common schools.

Another important item passed by the Assembly is the appropriation of $17,000 to be applied to the support of common schools in those districts which are poorand where the school tax is not sufficient to carry the schools through the year. The law does not provide that the surplus of one district may be applied to supplement the deficiency in another, and hence in a few, while there have been more funds than were used, there have been many where the schools have been closed for long periods. To remedy this evil, a fund has been provided by which all the schools may be kept on through the year. The improvements in the school law are such as must meet with general approval, and we hope that all the friends of Hawaiian education will heartily help to give them successful application. THE third volume of the elaborate Chinese and English Dictionary, by Dr. W. Lobscheld, was received by the Idaho, one copy being sent by the author to the government and another to Dr. Hillebrand. This volume takes from I to Q. inclusive. The work, which is printed at Hongkong, will be com-
